team when everyone's hitting." In the Trap victory, the Telstar girls built up a 6-1 lead after three innings and then held on for the 6-5 win. Belanger kept her cool in the face of the late Trap charge and went the distance.

The girls are looking forward to meeting 2nd-ranked Sacopee—a team they beat 8-6, at home, during the regular season. Sacopee, which was last year's champ, got to the final as the result of an 8-6 win over Carrabec yesterday.

In the preliminary game, last Wednesday, Rebel batters jumped all over a well-balanced Livermore Falls team, building up 15 runs, while giving up just 6. A tiring Belanger was replaced by Mindy Robinson for the final innings.

up to Rick Roy, in left field, to get under a long fly ball for the final out.

Between Williamson and Viger, the team only gave up three hits to the visitors, but allowed a large number of Falmouth players on base via three errors and a number of walks. For the Rebels, their two runs came on six hits and with the assistance of one Falmouth error.

In Saturday's game, the Rebels, relying on the steady pitching of Williamson, struggled ahead of Carrabec, mainly because of the Green Machine. Rebel bats were not as active as they normally are. Good defense by the Rebels preserved their slim lead, and the game was finally ended, with a Carrabec runner on third, when left-fielder Ken Viger ran down a line drive that looked like a sure hit into left-center.

The Telstar boys had a bye in the preliminary round, played last Wednesday.

If the boys win the Western Class C Championship, they will play for the state championship on Saturday.

Town meeting wants

trying to buy the town the best police protection we can afford," he noted that an additional $24,000 put into the budget would increase the tax rate by about one mill—making the envisioned increase three mills instead of two mills. (The municipal budget will be over $800,000.)

But the voters were undeterred. "I can appreciate the fact that the selectmen have tried to be frugal," said Barbara Brown, "but it's time to address the problem—and we do have a problem."

Bill Williams, a lieutenant in the sheriff's department, said more local police are needed in order to cut down on the response time in case of an accident. "By increasing the amount to $69,000 you're going to be able to put more people on, which is what we need."

Most people agreed, and the motion to allocate that amount passed, 93-31.

Town Meeting next told the selectmen, by an overwhelming vote, that it would not authorize the board to contract with the sheriff's office for police protection. Voters wanted the police force to be based right in town. Dennis Doyon argued that a local force would mean quicker response during off-duty hours.

The selectmen had argued that with Chief Stearns retiring it would be impossible to find another chief to work the long hours he did, or to work for the same salary. Mike O'Donnell countered that town policy should not be dictated by the retirement of any one person, but on the needs of the town.

The next article to engender heated debate was Art. 16, in which the selectmen and Budget Committee differed on the amounts each suggested to set aside for replacing the oldest ambulance. The B.E.A.R.S. staunchly argued that they needed the replacement ambulance as soon as possible, rather than in 1990, as the Budget Committee had recommended.

"That ambulance will be 15 years old by 1990," Arlene Greenleaf said. "How many of you (on the Budget Committee) are driving around in a vehicle that's 15 years old?" The committee had argued that with the ambulance service no longer covering Newry the ambulance should last longer. Voters overwhelmingly supported the B.E.A.R.S., which means the ambulance will be bought next year.

The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce got into its annual tug-of-war with the town fathers over whether or not town taxes should help pay for the work done by the chamber. Fred McMillin moved that no money be appropriated for the chamber. (The article on the warrant had requested $750, but the selectmen and Budget Committee had both recommended no appropriation.)

Jim Hudson immediately moved the question to shut off debate. This motion, which needed a two-thirds majority, received only 39 votes, to 35 against. So the discussion went on. Cathy Newell

111 cast ballots Monday in annual Bethel voting

One hundred eleven Bethel voters, slightly more than six percent of those registered, cast their ballots in the annual municipal election held Monday at the fire station.

As there were no contests listed on the ballot, the voter turnout was significantly larger than had been anticipated by local officials.

Re-elected as selectmen for three years were Arlan Jodrey and Patricia C. Doon, with 93 and 87 votes respectively. Receiving write-in votes were John Todd and Jack Brooks with three each, and Sumner Burgess and Robert Stevens, with one each.

Robert Stevens received 97 votes and Mrs. Doon 67, as they were re-elected as assessors for three years. Mr. Jodrey received five write-in votes for the position and John Todd and Jack Brooks, one each.

Stanley R. Howe received 91 votes as he returns to the SAD #44 board of directors for a three year term after a one year absence, succeeding Al Barth who did not seek re-election. Incumbent school director John K. Brown received 100 votes as he was returned to the position for three more years. There was one write-in vote cast for Jolene Shimamura.

Spanish exchange host family orientation

The Bethel Rotary Club has scheduled a host family orientation meeting for Tuesday, June 23 at 7 p.m. at the Teistar lecture hall for all hosting families, organizers, and interested parties. The purpose of the meeting is to prepare the hosting families for the two-week visit of 20 children from Mijas, Spain, and the five adult chaperones from July 11 through July 20.

The meeting will finalize activity meeting times, touch on key Spanish phrases and customs, outline the expectations of the hosts, and answer all the questions about this exciting educational opportunity. The sponsors hope to have all the kids matched up with families by this time. Host families unable to attend are asked to notify David Preble of the Bethel Rotary Club at Prim's Pharmacy at 824-2220.

The last bit of conflict involved the fact that the long-awaited site plan review ordinance was not ready for a vote and the article proposing it had to be postponed. Pat Hudson, who had chaired the subcommittee that drafted the ordinance, said, "It's unfortunate that they (the Planning Board) sat on it and didn't get it ready for tonight."

Planning Board Chairman John Gray said the draft should be ready for a special town meeting Aug. 25.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

The life and music of "Mellie" Dunham were highlighted at the June monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society held on Thursday evening in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House, on hand for the program were the Bedard Trio (Bill, Loma and Ed) from Norway/South Paris who played some of "Mellie" Dunham's music and discussed his life and career.

Alanson Mellen Dunham, Jr. (better known as "Mellie") was born in Norway, July 30, 1853, and lived his life quietly on a 100 acre family farm on Crockett Ridge, farming, making snowshoes, and playing the fiddle at local dances. In the fall of 1925, he entered the state fiddle playing contest in Lewiston and won first place. This recognition brought him to the attention of auto maker Henry Ford, who invited him to play for him in Detroit. "Mellie" was a big hit with Ford and this brought him national attention. From this point, Dunham was signed up with the Keith-Albee Vaudeville Circuit for a 22 week tour of 19 cities, including New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Detroit.

In Washington, D.C., Dunham and his wife, Emma (referred to as "Gram") were guests of Calvin Coolidge at the White House. Returning to Norway at the end of the tour, 72 year old "Mellie" and his wife "Gram" were greeted by a large throng of well-wishers, welcoming him home. This brief period of fame earned "Mellie" over $20,000 and brought the state of Maine what some observers think was about $1,000,000 worth of free publicity. As a farmer and snowshoemaker (as his son's snowshoes now in use in the Smithsonian were used by Robert E. Peary in exploring the North Pole), "Mellie" rarely earned over $20 per week in this brief period of national fame brought him at age 72 a fortune for the day. He died on Sept. 27, 1931, just over a month after making an appearance in Bethel at the sesquicentennial of the Indian Raid, Aug. 3, 1931.

Dunham's granddaughter, Lona Bedard provided several personal impressions of her grandfather in addition to sketching his life and career and her husband Bill played one of "Mellie's" songs "Ripping Waves" on one his fiddles. The evening concluded with the trio playing songs requested by the audience followed by a social hour and refreshments.

During the business portion of the meeting President Alden Kennett thanked the Art and Museum Committee for a very successful weekend with the Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show and the observance of the 198th birthday of Dr. Moses Mason. He announced that the next meeting would feature the annual society picnic beginning at 6 p.m. Anyone attending was requested to bring his lunch and beverages would be provided by the society. As this year is the centenary of Dr. True's death, Society Director

SKI SEASON FINALLY ENDS

After 224 days of operation, Killington Ski Area, in central Vermont, ended the 1986-87 ski season last Wednesday, June 3.

The June 3 closing date marked the third consecutive year Killington has offered skiing into June. The East's largest ski resort, Killington, opened for the 1986-87 season last Oct. 10.

Stanley R. Howe will make a presentation "Dr. N.T. True: Local Historian."

The "Artifact of the Month" was announced as an insurance policy for the Gould Academy building in 1849, insured for $800, the gift of Edward (Ned) Hastings. Life membership certificates were presented by the president to Harry and Barbara Kuzik, Society Director Howe introduced Betty Lord as the latest Green Thumb worked added to the society's staff. Mrs. Lord will be working on the society's oral history collection. The director also brought attention to the fact that the latest town report has a society photograph on its cover and the text describing it is from R.H. Bennett's book, Oxford County, Maine: A Guide to Its Historic Architecture.

He also brought to the attention of those attending the conference sponsored by Maine Citizens for Historic Preservation at Bar Harbor on June 20 "Historic Gardens and Landscapes: Preserving Maine's Legacy." Anyone wishing further information should call the society at 824-2908.

Newry

By AMY HANSCOM

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Glover were at the Hanscom place Wednesday through Saturday and called on Amy and Roger Hanscom.

Charles Arey and Don Nichols entertained with banjo, accordion, jokes and singing at the municipal building Friday P.M.

The audience had a very enjoyable time listening to Charley and Don who have traveled extensively for many years entertaining. This is the third year they have been here courtesy of Commercial Paving Company. In appreciation for the work the town of Newry gives them in paving town roads.

Eric and Benjamin Glover, Hollis, visited his parents, Verne and Vada Glover, Saturday.

The title of Pastor Hanscom's message Mat 31 was "Contentment," with scripture readings from Psalms 37:1-16 and Phillipians 4:4-13.

The Ladies Circle met June 1, at the home of Louise Tetley, with seven members present. The meeting was opened by the president, Gilberte Seeley. Hostess Louise Tetley read the devotions. She also read the minutes of the last meeting and brought the business up to date. Olive Anderson gave the report on the church finances. The winner of the afghan will be chosen at the next meeting on July 6. Election of officers was postponed until July 6, and the annual dues will be due on that date. It was voted to hold a lawn sale at Sue Wright's on June 27.

Donations of articles and food for the sale will be appreciated. It was voted to hold the annual Old Home Sunday Picnic and Service at the church Aug. 2. The picnic will be on the church grounds at 5 p.m., followed by services and a hymn sing in the church. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Bowling on June 3 were Sylvia Wight, Louise Tetley, Gil Seeley, Thelma Lowery, Betsy Clark, Olive Anderson, and Rena Powers. Thelma Lowery was high scorer on both single and triple. All went lunch and shopping.

Reg Bachelder did Gil Seeley a favor—he mowed her lawn Wednesday as it was getting the best of her.

Karlene Bachelder and Gil Seeley took a trip to Belfast to pick up her mother, Julia Goodrum, who will spend a week or so in Newry. They visited with Karlene's relatives around Unity, Farmington, and Knox Center.

Louise Tetley and Gil Seeley went to North Conway shopping on day last week.

Greenwood City

By COLESTA MORGAN

Sunrise comes early now. We are awakened to hear the bird songs, see the last winking stars, and marvel at the day's beginning, a special occasion. Stars slowly fade. The sky brightens in the east and the trees shimmer. Whisps of silver mist hug the pond. Scenes drift across the scene from nowhere. I can never discover the connection between the scene and what I am consciously thinking. Neither can I ever conjure the scene back in full vividness. It is somewhat like a ghost that wafts across the stage-set unnoticed by the leading characters.

The sky is laced with greens of the mountains and many, many trees. I like trees. Trees have a close relationship at the present moment. I live with trees; they extend impressively in both directions, up and down, sheering rocks and fanning the air. This was a day's beginning at my house.

I went to a windswept hill, where trees reached to the sky. Bobolinks were swinging on swaying weeds, and lilacs brightened my day.

Each year I plan to visit the farm fields to see them. Great masses hung in lopsided clouds over a homestead site of so very, very long ago. They tried to hide the stones, evidence of a human's meeting place. I love them growing in their natural place but seldom care to pick them.

Bobolinks appeared here and there. They are an interesting bird and certainly different for he wears his suit hindmost foremost. His creamy white vest is around behind him while the black tie is in front. He is a noisy little fellow, but is desirable for his voice bubbles with music while he is on the wing or settled on a blade of grass, which I think can't possibly hold him. But it does.

It was good to stand again in a field of clover and look over the valley. Meadows are starred with daisies and buttercups. Summer wouldn't be summer without the daisies and buttercups that are like golden frost on the fields. It has no particular fragrance and needs none.

It was a pleasant trip and I'm glad that I went to the world of green, growing fragrance all mingled into one.

The moose across the pond has been an interest to many this week. I saw mother and baby one morning, at another time just mother.

David, Sally and Mary Holt were at the farm one day this week for a short visit.

On Sunday afternoon Ann Holt, her mother, and I were in Standish to visit David Holt.

Saturday my callers were Maxine Leighton, her son, and her father, Ernest Curtis, from Poland, Eva Schools, and cousins, of Bethel.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Inman are at "Maplewood" for the summer.

Louise DiArenzo is here from Pennsylvania to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pat DiArenzo.

Canadian Power for Maine?

Maine People Will Decide

To Our Customers

Why Have We Proposed Canadian Power?

Projections by Central Maine Power and the State Office of Energy Resources indicate that Maine's need for electricity will increase at an average rate of 2% to 3% per year through the beginning of the next century. To help meet that increased use, Central Maine Power Company has signed a letter of intent with Hydro-Quebec, a Canadian utility, to purchase a 14% share of power to meet a significant portion of our customers' needs by 2001. CMP will not earn a profit on such a power purchase but we believe after studying Maine's available energy options, that the Hydro-Quebec proposal offers the most long-term benefits and least risk to our customers. We will not, however, finalize any agreement with Hydro-Quebec unless our state's leaders agree that such a purchase is in the best interest of Maine people.

Over the next two years the Maine Legislature, the Maine Public Utilities Commission, Governor McKernan, and other State, Federal and local planning and licensing bodies will review this proposal. Throughout this process, Maine citizens will have an opportunity to actively participate in this important decision.

How Would The Power Come To Maine?

Power would be delivered to Maine through a new high voltage transmission line originating in Canada and following a western Maine route, still to be determined by State and local authorities after intensive review and public hearing. The final route will be selected to have the least impact possible on area ecology, aesthetics and land use. CMP will also work with the State and local communities to provide natural vegetation screening and to select transmission structure design that will minimize the overall visual impact of the line.

A proposed corridor has been identified after nearly a year and a half of environmental study by Charles T. Main, engineering consultants hired by Central Maine Power Company to assist in the licensing of the transmission line. That study included not only aerial photography and map surveys, but many days of hiking the areas along each proposed study route. Another step in that process was the series of meetings with town officials and residents held in April and May.

Citizen Input Needed

Maine people can participate in the planning and decision making process for this proposal in several ways. CMP will continue to brief communities potentially affected by the proposed transmission line and will contact local agents to receive information from preliminary route-determination documents available to officials and residents who have an opportunity to closely review and provide input to any environmental impact statement or environmental impact statement. Citizens can also participate in hearings before the various State and Federal agencies reviewing the proposal. We at CMP welcome input from our customers' ideas and observations.

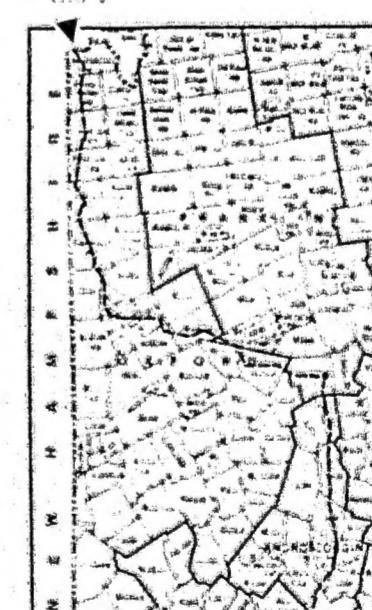

Making the best decision for Maine's long-term energy future will require the careful review and participation of all concerned Maine people. Whichever way you participate, Maine ultimately chooses. CMP stands ready to serve.

For more information about the Hydro-Quebec proposal, we encourage you to contact the CMP Public Communications Department, Edison Drive, Augusta, Maine 04336 or call (collect) 233-3521.

John W. Rowe, President and Chief Executive Officer

Proposed Study Corridor

The proposed transmission corridor extends the State of Maine at Bowdoinham Township, and from the point and proceeds in a southeasterly direction through Parsonfield Township, Lyndon Township, Pownal, Union Township, Lincoln, Plantation, Mayfield, Hartland, Upton, C. S. Parson Township, Andover, North Springfield Township, and Hartland. Hartland, C. S. Parson, and Hartland are located in Franklin County, and Jay, where the line is expected to intersect with a Canadian transmission line, is located in Franklin County. The proposed corridor would travel along the 345 KV transmission line down existing right of way through the towns of Livermore Falls, Livermore, Limestone, Green, Limestone, Auburn, Durham, New Gloucester, and Pownal, where it would join the rest of the Company's transmission system at the Surry substation.

Andover East Andover

By MARJORIE JODREY

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McArthur (neé Maryanne Jaros) of St. Louis, Mo., were met at Portland on Saturday by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jaros. They will be visiting a few days and will attend Tara Tracy and Jim Cliff's wedding in Bar Harbor on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dudley of Fort Bragg, N.C., who have been visiting a few days with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cole Jr. and family, returned to Fort Bragg on Monday, June 1.

Two weddings of interest to the younger people of town were Lynn Patrick to Jeff Wheeler and Barbara Burnham to Mark Dolloff. Congratulations and best wishes to both young couples.

June 1 was "Step Up" Day at Andover Elementary School. The sixth graders going to Telstar were Chad Bishop, Sarah Delphine, Toby Fanning, Nadia Emery, Dean Irish, Danny Irish, Andy Hutchins, Kevin Morton, Aaron Milligan, Joni Mosher, Larry Parker, Jennifer Percival, Suzanne Richardson, Jason Standeven, Holly Salway, Danny Thibodeau, John Thurston, and Ben Wyman. The new kindergarten class to enter next fall are Jennifer Fyrberg, Katrine Burgi, Brianna Drakus, Jimmy Wolfe, David Gallant, Tom Andexler, Kier Simmons, Nathan Arsenault, Erica Blood, Sara Gayer, Mindy Childs, Amanda Davis, Nikki Kreton, Regine Zitoli.

On Tuesday evening, the 4th, 5th and 6th grades of the Andover Elementary School presented their spring musical, "The Case of the Missing Part of Speech." The cast were the sixth grade and the 4th and 5th graders were the chorus. Mrs. Liz Mikenas-Smith was the director. A very cute production was enjoyed by a good crowd of parents and friends.

Andover farm baseball team is off to a good season's start with their win over Bethel on Wednesday night. Congratulations and keep up the good work.

The Andover fire department members have taken over the Wednesday night game parties for the summer.

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Ralph Remington, a former Andover resident, and sister to Mrs. Catherine McGuire and Mrs. Dora Morton. Sympathy is extended to them and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Palmer and daughters, Robin and Mrs. Richard Jodrey will leave Monday, June 8, from Portland to Boston and then by jet to Kitzingen, Germany, where they will visit their son, Sgt. and Mrs. Warren Palmer and son Joshua for two weeks.

Mrs. Grace Simmons, East Andover, and Mrs. Marjorie Porter of Portland, will leave Portland on June 16 for Boston and then on to Frankfurt, Germany, to visit two week's with Perry Stinson who is working at a Government Television Station. There and also to visit Major Porter's son, Kurt, who is stationed in Germany with the U.S. Army.

Mrs. Floyd Emerson Sr. and daughter, Mrs. Bill Barnett, were in Lewiston on Tuesday visiting relatives and shopping. The opening hymn was "For a Thou-

Rotary Club notes

The regular breakfast meeting of the Bethel Rotary club was held on June 9 at Martha's Restaurant.

Visiting Rotarians and guests joining with the group Bill Lowther, Boonton, N.J.; David Palne, Oxford Hills; Ira Pitcher, Lewiston/Auburn; and Dick Rasor, guest speaker.

Bruce Powell was out among us at the meeting hustling raffle tickets. The winner was Jim Yarnell.

Rotary information was furnished by John Todd. His subject matter was thought-provoking and concerned Mollycoddet Day activities.

President Dave had a few announcements to make to the members present regarding the Graduation Breakfast at Gould Academy on June 13. A bike-a-thon report was made at this time. Some additional information on the Spanish student exchange program was presented at this meeting.

The program chairman was Bill Conary. His guest speaker was Dick Rasor, owner of the Bethel Inn. Dick talked about the plans for expansion/development of the Bethel Inn. Dick commented about the transition of Bethel, just in the short period between 1978 and today, from a quiet little place to a thriving community. Dick provided much detail about building the new courses, the condominium development, which makes available new guest rooms for the inn. The target date for completion of the course is July 1988. Under the guidance and management of Dick, Ray Moran, Gretchen, and others, the inn is now a successful and needed local business.

As a closing thought it is sure nice to have our summer visitors back with us again. Welcome back Bill, Charlie, Gil—and you too, Ed.

AT LAST WEEK'S WOODSTOCK ELEMENTARY ALUMNI LUNCH, Principal David Murphy (center) presented certificates of appreciation to former principal Doug Thompson and former teacher Mrs. Billings. Mr. Thompson was principal from 1917 to 1952; Mrs. Billings taught at W.E.S. 1965-1980.

Gilead

By LOUISE LORING

A tropical heat wave—when we got all that warm weather pushing up from the Carolinas—I loved it. The plastic screens came off the porch and I could see outdoors again. The old robin loved it, too. He sat out by my bedroom window at 4 a.m. every morning and turned up his vocal chords to full volume. In the afternoons, he'd come out front of the house and continue to peal out loud and clear, even when he donned his little polka dot bikini and took a dip in the bird bath. Goldfinches twittered about, and a big yellow butterfly kept close tabs on me. Eventually I ventured out, making his circles about my head and once trying to zero in on my arm, which I guess he figured was a vast expanse of white landing strip. Cookouts were no fun however, even with the buglight on. Every species of insect in the county hatched out; and talk about D-Day—we were attacked, the food was attacked, and they even tried to light on the lava rocks. Needless to say, we retreated to the porch, smelling of Avon Skin so soft. Who said God would give us a rose garden? Today, we have a respite, skies are overcast, and it is trying to rain. However, I hear the robin out back, and I'm sure when Mr. Sun rolls out of bed, many pleasant surprises will be in store for us, as we roll full speed ahead into the days that are so "rare" in June. Graduations, wedding bells, and field strawberries. We've waited all winter for this!!!

Enjoy and Peace!

Marion Kimball spent the weekend in Livermore with a friend, and together they traveled to Portland, where they visited with Annie Olson, who is in a hospital there.

My grandchildren, Joshua and Libby Foster, of Norway, spent the weekend here with both of us.

Kathy Sweetser is working at the diner here in town part-time.

Florian Corriveau, of Auburn, has been spending some time here in town visiting friends and relatives.

By OLIVE DAVIS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Young have arrived at their cottage from New Jersey for a two-month stay.

Sunday I went to Bridgton to see my sister, Lillian Harmon, who is in the hospital. She didn't break any bones in her fall but she has stomach trouble they are trying to correct, so she wasn't able to come home yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks and Olive Davis attended the Franklin Grange memorial program Monday night, also Berthe Benoit. Tuesday night they were at Waterford Grange attending Oxford Pomona.

Several attended open houses at Triton's new building on Route 26, West Paris, Sunday, May 31.

We had a very hot week until Tuesday (June 2) when it cooled off all at once in the early afternoon. You really can't believe that the weather could change so much in the matter of hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cole hosted a gathering of their Old Car Buffs at their home here last Sunday evening. Video tapes of their recent excursions were shown, followed by a social hour.

State road crews have been out in full force, patching roads and repairing them, still trying to catch up on the havoc caused by the spring flood.

Flash! Our peas are up, and Mrs. Chuck is back. If you hear a volley of shots—have no fear. There isn't a feud going on between the Hatfields and McCoys—it's just us trying to do her in—before she wipes us out!

Until next week—God Bless!

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Kimball were in Harrison Monday for his medical check-up. Christine, with daughter Alberta, were in Portland another day this week to finalize reservations etc. for their upcoming trip to the midwest. Jimmie and Christine also visited with Mrs. Lillian Herrick Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Preble, of Newburyport, spent last weekend at their cottage here.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kallis returned this week from a month-long trip to the midwest. John was a delegate to the Christian Missionary Alliance Council, which was observing their 100th anniversary in St. Paul, Minn. On their way home they visited with Dr. and Mrs. Robert Ribbe, in Grand Rapids, Mich., at their camp on Bear Lake and also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Riggs, in Watertown, N.Y.

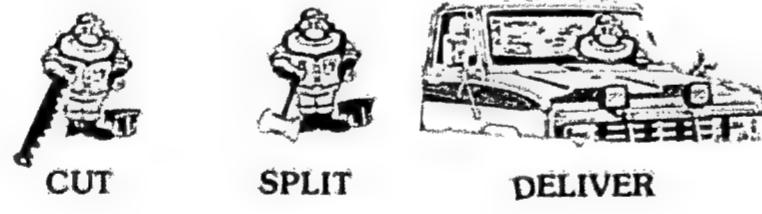

Mrs. Elmira Doyen and Mrs. Connie Hindman were in Lewiston Friday evening.

Mrs. David Salway attended a meeting at The Senator Inn, in Augusta, Friday. She was one of 14 representatives from various state colleges meeting with the coordinator of the National Teacher Examination of the Educational Testing Services. I went with her and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. James Wike, in Gardiner.

How things have bloomed out and turned to the many shades of green in the last days of wet and warm weather. Nearly everyone has their gardens in and with a feeling of satisfaction watching them start to grow.

Another cloudy morning but it is showering some this morning instead of just being cloudy. I think the sun must have gotten lost lately, no more than we have seen it. I could wish for less humid weather to help the aches and pains and have an idea some others might feel the same way.

We have been busy all we could for the past week. A week ago today, I had Peggy drive me to town to see the doctor for a check up of sorts. When I got into the car, after seeing the doctor, my right knee let go for a minute and I wondered what had happened. It swelled and hurt a lot but was able to move it by working it a little. When I went to see the doctor on Friday, he said he thought that I had had a piece of calcium deposit let loose but the body would absorb it and guess it did as I haven't had any more trouble with it since the incident.

Wynona was up on Friday to take me to see the doctor and he also saw Kariann. She had fallen out of bed the week before and hurt her hand and was complaining that her back hurt. He helped her so she is feeling some better but said she would need another treatment. I can assure you, he helped her with a few treatments a year or so ago so she could do things she couldn't before he ever treated her. Her gross motor skills weren't what they should have been because of trouble in her back and he helped her to develop them quite rapidly. I was amazed but very pleased.

Russell and Peggy had gone for blood tests in the morning and in the evening, we got all dressed up and went to Auburn to see Courtney in her dance recital. The little ones were especially cute and Courtney was one of the first to be on stage as a little cat with her other friends. They did their kitty song and dance very well for small folks. It is quite a shock to think you will see your mother and father in the audience and then to come on stage and have the room dark; the small girls looked scared and can't say I blame them. However, they did a good job with their dance and others did, also. We didn't stay to see all of it but did stay for an hour or so. I counted all the names on the list of dancers and there were 138 or 139 names listed. This was the 50th year for Mrs. DesJardins' dance recitals. That is quite a honor, and she expects to teach them again next year. Of course, she has helpers, but she is the head of it all and is real good with the little folks.

a nice visit with her and it gave me a short rest from my tedious job.

It is good to look up back at the garden and see that the seeds we planted are coming up good. We just hope the bugs and insects won't be as bad as they were last year. The leaf miners got a lot of the stuff and Russell said he never had so much trouble with insects that he didn't even know existed. New ones crop up each year to plague the folks who want to raise gardens. It makes it hard when the dust and bug killer you have used in the past no longer works. Keeps one guessing what to do.

Whenever we go riding, I have to look all around me at the scenery to see if I can spot something new along the way.

I miss my walks in the woods to find the flowers that grow there in the spring. However, we have had something this year that hasn't happened before since we moved here. There is a black cherry tree out back that has been in full bloom, and I mean full. It has never blossomed before since we moved here and, to be honest, even though it is so pretty I wish it refrained from blossoming this year as

The Solly Gays have come to camp for the first time since Glenna's operation.

Mike Levitt's Hereford bull went for a walk and was discovered in Errol about eight miles from home. Bob Judkins drove the tractor to retrieve and walk him home behind the tractor. En route, they met a bull moose but neither animal created a problem.

Owners of the three-cornered piece has been discussed again. If the roads are widened once more it will knock the whole question into oblivion. When I was a teenager one of my goals was to have a three-cornered shaped restaurant on that spot. I designed a very nice one when the land area was perhaps twice as much as now.

The Hydro-Quebec Group, which in conjunction with CMP wishes to put power lines through this area including Lincoln Plantation, Magalloway, Upton, Andover, contacted the selectmen recently.

This is vital for all citizens concerned for the beauty, the cost of their electricity, probable wildlife damage from a constant shrill whine and certain panorama damage. It certainly would make a terrific impact on this area of northern Oxford County and, pro or con, it behoves us to become informed.

It has affected my allergies. Woe is me and anyone else who has problems in that department. It is no fun to find it hard to breathe or keep sneezing and having runny noses or lose one's voice. It affects folks differently and not one of the affects is a pleasure. All we can do is hang in there and hope the days will get better. On that note, I will close and wish everyone a nice week ahead.
